

Several months ago we received a note in our door advertising a real estate service if we ever decided to sell our home. We have never sold any of our homes through real estate but always privately.

Our decision to retire at the end of the year and relocate outside the Toronto area prompted us to contact Gina Jeffers who had left the note in our door. Because we were unsure about the Whitby market we felt we needed the expertise of an agent to represent our best interests. A meeting was set up with Gina who came and inspected our home. We were also unsure what the best time to list our home would be and she gave us all the pros and cons of choosing a date. A week passed when she returned with a thorough market analysis of the whole of Whitby specifically pertaining to homes of our type (bungalow/loft). We were extremely impressed by the caliber of the reports she had put together and the professionalism when helping us ascertain a time to list our home and an asking price.

Gina gave us sound advice as how to market our property to the best potential with little work on our part. We quickly got to work taking Gina's advice into consideration before the sign went on our lawn. She had a professional video made of our home along with an in depth colour brochure highlighting all the favourable features of our home. These both were of the highest standard Steve and I have ever come across. Literally within minutes of our home advertised on MLS calls were flooding into the Royal LePage office and viewings were arranged immediately which I attribute to Gina's hard work and professional standard she has set for her clients. Needless to say, our home was sold firm the second day over and above our asking price!

We have shown the brochure as well as the video to all our neighbours and friends and have received endless compliments regarding both. Steve and myself both attest that Gina's well rounded knowledge about the market, knowing how to advertise and market our home was the contributing factor for reaching a quick sale.

We would like to thank personally Gina Jeffers for her attentiveness, professionalism and dedication in representing us. We would also not hesitate in the least recommending Gina for anyone looking for a great agent to represent them. This was a very pleasant first experience with selling a home through real estate.

*Thank you tremendously
